

Programs for Professionals

$25

October 17, 2009
Exploring Autism

Autism is a brain disorder that affects a person's ability to communicate, to reason, and to interact with others. Recent reports have indicated that 1 in 150 children are diagnosed with autism or a related disorder by age eight. This program will explore the signs and symptoms, diagnosis, treatment options, resources, impact and research trends of this life-long disability. Shari Schmersal, LSW, MS, will present.

February 20, 2010
Constructive Conflict

Conflict is inevitable, normal and healthy and should be dealt with using a positive attitude, along with communication, problem solving and negotiation skills. This program will explore the elements of good listening in conflict situations and various methods for resolving conflicts that may arise with clients, families, coworkers and students. Constructive management of conflict and diplomatic disagreement will be discussed, and participants will work to create their own conflict action plan. Brittany Collier-Gibson, MS, will present.

April 17, 2010
Eating Disorders

More than 5 million Americans are affected by serious and often life-threatening eating disorders. Left untreated, the emotional, psychological, and physical consequences can be devastating, even fatal. Although eating disorders are most prevalent in females between the ages of twelve and twenty-five, they can also occur in males, young children and older adults. Arlett Pollock-Evans, MS, RN, CNS, CTP, will present.

Class Time: All classes are on Saturdays, 9:00 a.m. - 12:15 p.m.
(Continental breakfast begins at 8:30 a.m., Introductions at 8:55 a.m.)

Location: Ohio State Lima, Science Building, Room 100

Fee: $25.00 per program

Program fee is not refundable for "no-shows" or late cancellations (less than 48 hours before program).
